Sunroom

The old screened-in porch just wasn't big enough, so JEB brought the outdoors in. We created a sunroom large enough for a sectional sofa, club chairs and a table for two to enjoy a meal and the view. Pella windows in "Evergreen" color exterior and painted wood interior have the latest phantom screens. The interior screens are remotely operational at four points in the room to allow for light control. JEB Design/Build created this sunroom to look and feel like part of the original house. Exterior features include cooper gutter, slate tiles on base of concrete foundation, and red wood cupola with a cooper weather vane. You can't tell where the old ends and the new begins!
